DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group II, claims 15-22) in Paper No. 8 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

4. Claims 15, 18, 19 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rhoads et al (US 6614914).

Art Unit: 2623

With respect to claim 15, Rhoads discloses an energy-coded image to generate a phase component and using the phase component to calculate the orientation of the image, (see col. 24, lines 35-40) as claimed. However, he fails to disclose the complex energy operator, as claimed. But, as reference calls for the water marking of an image see figure 2, the "complex energy operator" is read as the watermark and the energy-encoded image is read as the watermarked image. It would have been obvious to one ordinary skilled in the art at the time of invention to simply call the water mark as the complex energy operator as the water marks are use to make the image more secure their by making it more difficult to copy the image.

With respect to claim 18, it is well known in the art and been notoriously use to subtract the back ground of the image from the fore ground of the image, this is done in order to simply concentrate in the target object of the image.

Claims 19 and 22 are rejected for the same reasons as set forth in the rejection of claims 15 and 18 because claims 19 and 22 are apparatus claims for the method claims 15 and 18.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 16-17 and 20-21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
